Guitars Over Guns is a movement that empowers our deserving youth to create, succeed and thrive through mentorship and music. We expose our students to music education and authentic mentoring relationships with professional musicians to help them overcome hardship, find their voice and reach their potential as tomorrow’s leaders.

WHY MUSIC?

Community
High quality arts instruction during typically unsupervised hours

Opportunity
Performances give students opportunities that broaden horizons

Guidance
We provide a caring adult mentor to help unlock their full potential

Music lessons with our mentors means educational empowerment, dignity, and mental health stability for our students. And when people like you come together with organizations like us, our students are able to share their stories through song and dance. And that’s where the magic begins.

“Guitars Over Guns has taught me to believe in others as much as I believe in myself.”

- Yailin R., alumna & peer mentor

Student Performances
Attendees gather in cities across the nation to enjoy a curated show presented by our students and mentors. These sessions allow students to not only celebrate their talent and efforts with Guitars Over Guns, but also promote an open space to connect our audiences and beyond. The growing archive of GOGO IN THE HOUSE showcases are humbling. From alumni legends to hometown heroes, students are able to showcase their talents based on our monthly themes.

When you join us, we make it official
Our partners understand our mission, so as soon as you make it official, you will receive access to a full library of logos, photos, videos, and stories from the field. These tools may be used throughout the year to introduce others within your inner-circle to Guitars Over Guns.
Choose Your Sound is Guitars Over Guns’ signature annual fundraising event, attended by key supporters including friends, donors, entertainment industry luminaries and community stakeholders.

This year, we have returned to an in-person event, re-imagined and curated in partnership with one of Miami’s coolest new venues, La Tropical, located in Wynwood.

Kent Savage is an active philanthropist and social entrepreneur who has become, in a short time, a significant supporter and partner to Guitars Over Guns. In addition to being recognized as an international expert in the field of supply chain technologies, Kent was once a jazz musician himself, and his appreciation of music immediately connected him with the students, staff, mentors and other stakeholders of Guitars Over Guns. Kent understands the unifying power of music and how its healing powers can bring hope and light to the world. This past year, our communities, students and mentors stood strong through many challenges. Kent provided the support and dedication to inspire our mentors and students to voice their feelings and advocate for social justice through music. He shared the vision for our students and mentors to conceive and create an album of their own voices, in their own words, as a way to articulate what we all experienced in 2020.

A true partner and friend to Guitars Over Guns, Kent has also supported our Mentor Relief Fund and is one of the largest contributors to our Choose Your Sound Benefit Concert through his own artistic platform, Savage Content. Kent has become a part of the organization and is active in meetings, serving on committees and sharing the mission of Guitars Over Guns with those around him.

The mentors and students of Guitars Over Guns inspired Kent Savage to support a unique musical journal entry reflecting this moment in human history. The Rain May Be Pouring album features original music by emerging talent and spans genres from spoken word to rap, pop and jazz. The diverse musical styles are representative of the brilliant Miami and Chicago artists who work with students in the cities’ most vulnerable neighborhoods.
In 1994 award-winning chef Cindy Hutson met her life partner, Delius Shirley. With an inherent passion for cooking, but no formal training and three kids to care for, Hutson was hesitant to open her first restaurant venture. Against the odds and with the extra support of Shirley, Hutson took the leap of faith and that same year opened Norma’s on the Beach. Rave reviews touted Hutson’s cuisine as “the best Caribbean restaurant in South Florida” and international support from USA Today, The New York Times, London Times, Chicago Tribune, Chef Magazine and Eater, who named Hutson “Chef of the Year” (2012), helped set the pace for what would develop into a thriving culinary future. Hutson’s culturally diverse and seasonally driven culinary style is heavily influenced by her extensive travel and food history. Her signature “Cuisine of the Sun” is a self-coined approach that means to create without limits and cook everything under the sun, infusing nuances of her famous island flavors throughout. More than 25 years later Hutson and Shirley have built a culinary empire with award-winning concept restaurants including Ortanique on the Mile and Zest (Miami) along with Copra (Baltimore, MD) and Bogwalk (Destin, FL). Hutson’s first cookbook, From the Tip of My Tongue (Story Farm), received the prestigious Gourmand World Cookbook Award for Best Woman Chef Cookbook in the United States. When Hutson is not in the kitchen, she can be found lending her culinary expertise to the food community by hosting events, intimate cooking classes and mentoring young women through the James Beard Foundation’s Women in Culinary Leadership program about breaking through the culinary world’s “glass ceiling.”
